Flying Cows Add Former Kansas Jayhawk Final Four Player

The Flying Cows Sign 6'8" Forward Kevin Young and 7'0" Center Bryce Cashman

Thursday, May 2nd, 2024

Frederick, MD

The Flying Cows have added two new players to bolster their playoff push. 6'8" forward Kevin Young (KY) and 7'0" Center Bryce Cashman. Young played at Loyola Marymount before transferring to Kansas for his Junior and Senior seasons. Cashman played collegiately at the University of North Dakota and Northwestern Oklahoma State.

Young, 33, has played professionally for over a decade since completing a successful career at Kansas in 2013. In his senior season he ranked among the Big 12 leaders in rebounding (seventh, 6.8) and steals (15h, 1.1) and was Kansas' second-leading rebounder on a team that lost a heartbreaker to Michigan (eventual tournament runner-up) in overtime in the sweet 16. In his final game KY went a perfect 6 for 6 from the field.

Young had a previous short stint with the 2021 TBL champion Enid Outlaws before receiving a G league call up. Young was recognized as NBL Canada's defensive player of the year in 2015, and should be able to make a big impact on that end of the floor for the Flying Cows. Young will also be able to bring some very high level experience, having played multiple seasons overseas and in the NBA G League.

The 27 year old Cashman recently won the Bayern Cup with German club Bamberg, and will aim to provide additional rebounding and inside scoring prowess. He will become the tallest player on the Flying Cows roster, and with his length and strong 230 lb frame, will be a very imposing presence on the court

To make room on the roster The Flying Cows are releasing shooting guard/small forward Deon Lyle.
