Flying Cows Re-Sign 2024 Leading Scorer Guard Charlie Marquardt

Frederick Prepares for Marquardt's Return After His BSL Debut

Friday, October 4, 2024
Frederick, MD

The Frederick Flying Cows are excited to announce the return of guard Charlie Marquardt for the upcoming season. Marquardt, who led the team with an impressive average of 22.9 points per game and a free throw percentage of 85.3, has officially re-signed, marking his third season under head coach Ed Corporal.

"I had a ten out of ten experience playing for the Flying Cows," said Marquardt. "Playing for a great coach and a fantastic organization made my decision to return a no-brainer. For a first-year organization, they were incredible, and I can't wait to see what Year 2 has in store."

In addition to his standout performance with the Flying Cows, Marquardt also led the TBL (The Basketball League) in three-pointers, sinking 90 shots from beyond the arc last season. His winning experience includes a championship title with the Enid Outlaws in 2021.

Starting in November, Marquardt will be competing in the Basketball Super League (BSL), a partner league to the TBL. Charlie will play for the Sudbury Five, a professional Canadian team. The BSL aims to model itself after successful European basketball leagues, providing players with enhanced opportunities to develop their careers. Charlie will then return to Frederick and join the Flying Cows following the BSL season, which is expected to occur around March or April of 2025.
